Credit Unit Statement
(for 4-Year)

The BBA (Law) curriculum offer several types of courses which are taught using mixed learning modes. All of the courses are 6-credits. A 6-credit course uses at least 120 hours of student learning activity which includes both contact hours and all other forms of student learning activities. Most of the courses are assessed by a combination of coursework and examinations. Performance in tutorials/presentations are also included in the assessment. The different courses are summarized as follows:

Lecture Courses (6 credits)

These courses focus on content and are taught predominately by lectures and tutorials with contact hours totaling 40-50 hours. Learning activities include the following: lectures, small group tutorials, seminars, case studies, moot, class discussion, role-playing, and debating. Assessment methods may include the following: assignments, quizzes/tests, short essays, project papers, individual and group presentations totaling not more than 6,000 words (40-60%), and examination (40-60%).

Seminar Courses (6 credits)

These courses are taught in a seminar format with lectures (18-24 hours) and group activities which includes: interactive class discussion, in-class exercises, case and project presentations, and workshops (12-18 hours). A heavy emphasis of these courses is on experiential learning and practical application. Assessment is by various methods including written case analysis, case presentation, group project, and quizzes/tests totaling 5,000-6,000 words (40-60%), and examination (40-60%).

Online Courses (6 credits)

Online courses are 6 credits and use 120 learning hours which include self-study video lectures and other forms of student learning activities. Students are required to watch online video lectures and read textbook (at least 20 hours of self-study) and attend the following in-class activities: tutorials, small group discussions, debates and presentation (10-12 hours). Value-added learning activities may include simulated factory operations, field trip, online learning tools (6-8 hours). Assessment methods may include the following: assignments, quizzes, group-based case analysis, performance in in-class activities and presentation not totaling more than 4,000 words (40-60%), and examination (40-60%).

Independent Study Courses (6 credits)

Independent study courses provide students with an opportunity to pursue their own research interests under the supervision of a teacher. Contact hours are minimal (10-15 hours) as students spend the majority of their time on individual research and writing. Students are assessed by a 5,000-word written report. 100% coursework assessment.

Moot and Mediation Training (6 credits)

Moot and mediation training aim to train students to integrate legal knowledge with various types of legal skills including conducting legal research, writing of submissions and memorandums, mediation and advocacy skills. There are 150 hours of student learning activities. Students in this course are assessed by their written submission and a mediation report of approximately 2,500 words each and performance in mediation and advocacy.
